ADMINISTRATION'S TARIFF ATTITUDE.

Vice President elect Fairbanks De fines It at Annual Banquet of The Home Market Club

BELIEVES IN RECIPROCITY.

Whenever Change of Schedules is Essential in the Public Interest, Afteration Will be Made,

Boston, Dec. 1.-Before an audience of more than 3,000 persons, Vice President-elect Fairbanks of Indianapolis defined the attitude of the Republican administration on the tariff question at the annual banquet of the Home Manket club in Mechanics' hall tonight.

Among the other guests were Gov. John L. Bates of Massachusetts; former Secy, of the Navy John D. Long; Dr. W. H. Montague of Toronto, a privy councilor of the Dominion of Canada Gov.-elect John M. Lane of New Hampshire, and Gov, elect Henry Roberts of Connecticut. The speakers were Senator Fairbanks, Gov. Bates, Mr. Long and Dr. Montague.

Former Congressman Robert T. Davis-of Fall River, president of the club, as toast-master, made the opening address and in referring to the principles of protective tariff, which is tostered by the Home Market club, said that the leading members of the national house of representatives and senate would soon confer with the administration on the subject of tariff revision.

"And," he added, "we are willing to stand by their judgment as to the time and nature of such revision." Telegrams of regret were received from President Roosevelt and the Massachusetts senator. SENATOR FAIRBANKS SPEAKS.

Vice President-elect Fairbanks in his While the tariff question is an ord one, it is of continual and vital interest. It must not be overthrown or sur-rendered either by ignorance or prejudice; it must be maintained by edu-cation, by intelligent discussion. "The Republican party has revised tariff schedules in the past when revison was essential and it will not hesi-tate in the future to subject them to careful scrutiny and alteration, so that our protective system may be just in ps

Whenever change of schedules is essential in the public inferest the alteravisedly, it will be made, not in response to mere sentiment, but agreeably to sound economic recessity. Any other policy is obviously unwise and disturbing in its tendency.

"The Republican party adheres to the doctrine of commercial treaties, reciprocity, which tends to expand our commerce, and to develop American in-dustry and in interest of American la-bor and American capital. It holds to reciprocity which is the 'hand-maiden of protection' but not to that which is but another form of free trade and which is hostile to the protective sys-

President McKinley has been quoted by the enemies of protection as favor-ing the Democratic system of reciprocity. The text of his great speech gives denial to such pretensions. His utter-ances were entirely free from ambiguity. No one could misunderstand them who did not desire to do so. He dis-tinctly favored 'sensible trade arrangements, which will not interrupt our home productions.

"'We should take from our custo-mers,' said he, 'such of their products as we can use without harm to our in-dustries and laborers.' And he further declared that 'if perchance some of our tariffs are no longer needed for revenue and to encourage and protect industries at home, why should they not be enployed to extend and promote our markets abroad?

The result of the recent national 'election needs no interpretation. It plainly signifies that the people have unabated faith in the great principles for which the Republican party has wrought so well. It clearly justifies ex-ceptional confidence in the soundness and conservatism of Republican admin istration. The power committed to us is to be used with prudence. We are to continue to adhere to and uphold the great policies which have so well served us in the past. They are not to be un-dermined or subverted; they are to be upheld and maintained with wisdom and resolution.

CANADA FOR PROTECTION.

Dr. Montague said that the Dominion had tried all forms of trade relations, from reciprocity to free trade these have been dropped in favor of protection. Since the time when protection was firmly established the country has seen more prosperity than ever

Mr. Long said: "The simple key to this whole puzzle of the protective tariff, construing its principles not nar-rowly nor with partiality, but liberally one word 'adjustment'-the adjustment shifting at reasonable intervals as they

SENATOR BURTON'S CASE. Arguments in U. S. Supreme

Washington, Dec. 1 .- Solicitor Gen. Hoyt, of the department of justice, made the opening argument for the government in the case of United States Senator James R. Burton of Kansas in the supreme court of the United States. Mr. Hoyt contended that this was an ordinary criminal case, and the questioning of the jurisdiction of the court which tried Mr. Burton could not be successfully maintained. Replying to a question from Justice White, Mr. Hoyt said Mr. Burton's name appeared on the Rialto company's circulars, but at what time he could not say. Jus-tice White replied that as the department was investigating the case the time seemed very material.

Mr. Hoyt argued that Senator Buron knew just what he was doing when he accepted service with the Rialto company. He said it was questionable whether a senator should perform such services as was requested of the defendant by the company, but that when accepted a fee "he linked the fatal

Mr. Hoyt discussed the claim of the defense that the charge was an "in-famous crime" instead of a "misdemeanor," and therefore that the defense should have ten instead of three challenges. He alleged that the contention of the defense was not valid.

Justice White asked if he did not realize dustice Whife asked if he did not reduze that the penalty carried a disqualification of the accused, debar him from citizenship and forever put a stigma upon him. Mr. Hoyt maintained that the statute made the offense a misde-

The joint document of the ministers is most emphatic in tone and unusual in form. The diplomats considered the occasion an urgent one and their decision to enter a protest was unanimously arrived at.
